Pick Me First!

AUTHOR

SPEAKER

Background

Sherry has been trained by Carol Kent's Speak Up With Confidence original and advanced seminars and at Lysa TerKeurst's She Speaks Conference. A retired school teacher from the Midwest, she is married to George and has three adult children and eleven grandchildren... and GRAND it is!

Sherry wrote her first book, Do You Want To Be Made Well? Finding Freedom to Live The Life You Long For in 2023 after submitting to a few years of counseling. She used her busy lifestyle as an escape from facing her broken life. The running stopped when she could no longer pick herself up by her bootstraps and, with the Lord's guidance and professional help, found the life she longed to live.

PICK ME FIRST!

Our physical education instructor would appoint two students to be captains for the day, and they, in turn, would select teammates who would best enhance their chance for a coveted win. The real luck fell on the captain, who got to pick first. It was imperative to make the top choice, even if it meant bypassing your best friend.

Wisdom builds the house. We cannot wake up, refuse to develop, and place our home in neutral. Our daily decisions determine whether we are constructing towards the good or the bad. Wisdom meets us and offers the skills to assemble right. Wisdom calls out with an outstretched hand, "Pick me first!"

Benefits

- learn how to construct a life with the skill of making good decisions for a brighter tomorrow
- manage the load of a busy life with simple disciplines that create peace
- determine the story you want to tell to avoid disappointment and heartache when working backward
- identify foolishness that tears down your house by learning to wait, listen, and ask for help to apply the best choice
